Your EarthPure Polarized Media Air Cleaner may “snap” or “pop” when first plugged in. This is a normal and transient situation which may be caused by moisture trapped inside the filter pad during transit which will quickly and permanently correct itself after adequate airflow dries out the media pads.

Only GENUINE EarthPure Replacement Media Pads should be used in EarthPure Polarized Media Air Cleaners. Use of any other material, such as oiled fiberglass, may cause damage to the air cleaner and will VOID this Warranty.

Replacement Media Pads may be ordered from your ClimateMaster heating and air conditioning contractor. Visit climatemaster.com to find an authorized dealer near you.
